

DO YOU HAVE AN ACCURATE VIEW OF YOUR TEAM'S CURRENT AND FUTURE TASKS?

The key to informed decision making is to improve visibility and to know what your people are spending their time on. Workload management helps you focus on delivery and provides an overview of current and expected resource availability. At Macedon, we understand the core considerations at play and can rapidly build a custom solution to balance workloads, improving on-time delivery around your specific business projects and processes. Our workload management applications show real-time information pulled from multiple systems and allows you to make informed decisions. These applications increase visibility into approaching deadlines, future resourcing risks, and enable managers to assign and re-assign tasks accordingly.

FEATURES

- Efficient workload balancing across multiple resources, re-assigning resources while people are on leave
- Highlighting of unassigned and overdue items helps the team quickly address concerns
- Real-time visibility across an organization, with the ability to drill down to inspect individual work items
- Customizable filters to view workload by resource, assignment status, or deadline
- Robust reporting, allowing you to measure workload in a way that makes the most sense for your business

BENEFITS

- Increases efficiency and throughput of the team as the workload can be re-balanced
- Drives on-time delivery by providing historical trends to aid in future capacity planning
- Prevents resourcing overallocation through proactive and easy identification
- Consolidates assigned tasks across multiple systems
- Delivers continuous value, via the Appian platform, allowing rapid updates matching growing business demands
